Sleep Science

Our appreciation for the science behind perfect rest means that our product development is medically informed and scientifically sound. Every item purchased from Vencasa – whether from our Signature range or sourced from one of the brands we house in-store – represents the end result of exhaustive research.

From sleeping positions to the material of your bedding of choice, every aspect of your sleeping well-being has been taken into account.

We Are The Experts In Sleep

We encourage our clients to take a proactive approach to their overall wellbeing, and we advise them on the best sleeping solutions to meet the needs of their unique lifestyles. Our reliance on science in research and product development is balanced by our flair for the artistry of tailoring those solutions to the health and comfort requirements of the individual.

We are the official distributors of TEMPUR products to the South African market, and we represent such world-renowned brands as Magniflex, Sealy, Reed Family Linens and TEMPRAKON©. With the addition of our own Vencasa Signature range, we can confidently say that Vencasa is the home of perfect sleep.
